

Enhance your education with a student subscription to
Journal of Emergency Management

If you are a student in Emergency Management, you need to learn about the latest research and practice in this complex field. Professors and future employers will expect your complete mastery of the current literature and its application in the field.

Enhance Your Education, Subscribe Today...Includes Online Access!

Published bi-monthly, every issue of Journal of Emergency Management is packed with information that will keep your education on track. Topics include:

- Latest research and practice in emergency planning and response
- Current topics in disaster recovery and business continuity planning
- Emergency preparedness and response legislation
- Risk management
- Emergency management today, tomorrow and in the future
- Severe weather, flood and hurricane studies
- Emergency communications
- Continuity of operations and infrastructure protection
- Preparation and evacuation of persons with disabilities, and more!

Scan this QR barcode to order JEM
at the student rate
Use Coupon Code
JEMTX2016 at checkout.

To start your student subscription to the Journal of Emergency Management, send a copy of your current student ID along with your name, complete address, email and payment of $79.50* to: Journal of Emergency Management Student Program, 470 Boston Post Road, Weston, MA 02493. Or visit our website, select an individual subscription and complete the order with coupon code JEMTX2016 at checkout.

(*Student rates outside US are slightly higher due to the increased postage costs.)

www.emergencymanagementjournal.com